at 1600 on Tuesday 07 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Fine tonight. Turning showery south tomorrow. More widely unsettled Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Staying dry under clear skies at first, before turning breezy as patchy cloud forms predominately over western Wales. There is the potential for a few showers across the south around dawn. Feeling warm and humid. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Wednesday:
Periods of sunshine for many through the morning, but cloud moving northwards will bring some heavy showers and potential thunder to some southern and southwestern areas through the day. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Scattered showers on Thursday, heavy at times and with a risk of thunder. Further showers on Friday. Many areas dry on Saturday but the odd isolated shower is still possible.
